REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

Just to show that race suicide was not a popular fad in San Mateo County in its earlier days, here are a few more notices of births culled from the columns of the Gazette: In Redwood City, April 14, 1873, to Mr. and Mrs. J. Christ, a son in Redwood City, May 16, 1873, to the wife of John McKearse, a daughter. In Redwood City, May 20, 1873, to Mr. and Mrs. James Crowe, a son. At McCormick's ranch, in the Canoga, May 28th, to Mr. and Mrs. John McNulty, a son. Near Menlo Park, May 23th, to the wife of A. L. Judd, a son.

And here is a wedding that may revive some memories of yesteryear: In Redwood City, May 24th, 1873, at the residence of A. Underhill, by Rev. H. E. Jewett, George H. Jacobus to Miss Maria de Leon, both of Redwood City.

At the municipal election in this city on the 33d of May, 1873, there were a total of 136 votes cast. Following were the officers elected: John W. Glennan, marshal; W. Whitlock, assessor; W. P. Wallace, treasurer; A. Teague, J. N. Allen, George Wentworth, H. N. Bishop and M. Kuck, trustees. A ticket in opposition to these men had been placed in the field, but little effort was made for its election and it received but few votes.

The celebration of the Fourth of July in this city in 1873 was made a specially interesting occasion from the fact that the oration was delivered by Judge Lawrence Archer, then a prominent resident of San Jose, a man born and reared in the South and one of the staunch adherents of the cause of the Confederacy. So strong had been Judge Archer's veneration for the land of his birth and its institutions that during the war he had given up one of the most lucrative law practices in that city rather than take the oath of allegiance to the Federal Government required of all practitioners before the courts of the land at that time.

Hundreds flocked to the place to hear the oration of Judge Archer, whose strong southern views were well known throughout this section, some attracted by curiosity to hear the eloquent speaker and many with the expectation of hearing a startling deviation from the methods usually adopted by speakers in treating the subject usual for that occasion. These latter were considerably disappointed, for Judge Archer dwelt eloquently upon the demands of patriotism, urging upon his hearers a united support of the Nation and ignoring the causes of the civil war. In this those who best knew Judge Archer were not disappointed, as he was regarded by those who really knew him as a true gentleman of the old school, a man of broad mind and a true type of the best American citizenship. The preparation for the celebration was in charge of a committee consisting of J. Crowley, B. F. Cooper, A. Mills and C. P. Fox, and they had prepared a splendid program of entertainment for the day.

As usual there was a parade, with the firemen as the leading attraction and in which all the organizations of the town participated. This was led by A. Teague as grand marshal, with Peter Doyle and P. P. Chamberlain as aids. In the evening there was a grand ball at the Germania Hall.

The election for county officials which took place September 3, 1873, was marked by an unusually short campaign, neither of the parties making their nominations until within in considerably less than a month of the election. The Republicans were the first to take the field, holding their convention on the 18th of August in this city, with 23 delegates in attendance. The deliberations of the convention were presided over by J. P. Ames, with George Barker as secretary. There were but few contests for places on the ticket, and the following were selected as nominees: James Byrnes, assemblyman; John C. Edgar, sheriff; George H. Rice, clerk; H. N. Nutting, district attorney; B. F. Cooper, treasurer; Lewis Jancynsky, assessor; C. G. Warren, school superintendent; S. B. Gilbert, surveyor; Dr. I. R. Goodspeed, coroner. The Democrats held their convention two days later with 33 delegates in attendance. R. L. Mattingly was selected for chairman and Fred Rohrer for secretary. There were several contests for nominations and the convention was far from a harmonious one having been marked by considerable bickering. Finally the following were declared as the nominees of the party: Harvey Kincaid, assemblyman; C. E. Kelly, clerk; T. W. Lathrop, sheriff; W. R. Smith, district attorney; John H. Offerman, treasurer; J. J. Hill, assessor; Dr. B. Marshall, coroner; J. C. Nash, school superintendent.

tendent. At the election a total of 1345 votes were cast and with the exception of treasurer and assessor the entire Republican ticket was successful, though the majorities received varied very considerably, indicated that personal consideration entered largely as a factor in the results. For treasurer, Offerman beat his Republican opponent by a majority of 278 votes, while for superintendent of schools Warren, the Republican candidate received a majority of 386. The smallest majority given, any of the Republican candidates was for Rice, who was elected by the small margin of 21.

Mrs. F. W. Keefe, who recently purchased a number of Terrace lots is preparing to build a summer home. She will erect a handsome bungalow.

MONTARA

Mrs. O'schewsky of Sacramento is occupying her new cottage on Cedar street.

The Montara Construction Co. has the lumber on the ground for another new cottage.

C. E. Henderson has gone to Ohio for an extended visit with relatives.

The membership of the Montara Welfare Club is growing rapidly. At the last meeting one new member was admitted and five applications were received.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

The result of the election on the proposition to annex the smelter site has caused considerable disappointment to the people of South City. There were but five votes in the tract intended to be added to the taxable property of the town and it was expected that none of these would oppose the scheme. But some one reasoned without the host, as it seems that three of the five voted against annexation. It is probable that the question will soon be submitted again and next time the outside vote will be watched more closely.

The school trustees have elected Miss Hattie V. Baker as a teacher in the public school to take the place made vacant by the resignation of Miss Barrett.

The officers of Progress Camp, Woodmen of the World have paid to Mrs. Thomas Hogan the check from the Head Camp for $1000 due her as the insurance on the life of her husband, who died here a short time ago.

HALFMOON BAY

Manuel Francis has returned to his home at Sacramento after his visit with his brother, W. V. Francis.

N. Palerano of San Jose was a visitor with his sister, Mrs. Boltano, last week.

SAN BRUNO

Apparently the sentiment for incorporation here is much on the wane and there is strong probability that the agitation will soon be entirely dropped. At the last meeting held in the Town Hall to discuss the subject, but one speaker could be found who favored the incorporation plan, and the sentiment of the meeting was almost unanimous against the project.

The school trustees have elected Miss Hart, Mrs. Loomis and Miss Leonard, all old teachers for the next year. Reports showed that work on the new school building is progressing satisfactorily.

CITY TRUSTEES IN REGULAR MEETING

Will Prosecute Men Who Aid Confirmed Drunkards to Outwit Saloon Keepers

Although all of the Trustees were in their seats and apparently prepared for a hard night's work when Chairman Merrill called the Council to order Monday evening, an unusually small amount of business was disposed of. While no action was taken in the specific case brought to the attention of the Council, it was made evident that the Trustees are convinced that saloon keepers are at least not wholly responsible for the fact that men who are on the prohibited list obtain liquor, and that they were disposed to deal harshly with men who assisted these unfortunates in satisfying their craving for the drink that has proved their ruin. The matter was brought to the attention of the Council by Nightwatchman McGlynn, who stated that he had detected a party in the act of purchasing a bottle of liquor in a saloon and passing it out to a man who could not buy it for himself. As the party had pleaded innocence of wrong intent, he had summoned the man to appear before the Council to explain. The accused was present and while he admitted the charge he succeeded in convincing the Trustees that he had been imposed upon himself, and was let off with a strong caution. At the same time Nightwatchman McGlynn was commended for his activity in the matter and instructed to keep a special watch for offenders of this class and in the future to make arrest where persons are detected in procuring liquor for men on the forbidden list, with the assurance that they will be vigorously prosecuted.

The Telephone Company was given permission to rearrange its poles on the County Road so as to avoid interference with the new storm drains.

The monthly reports of the city officers were read and filed. The report of Treasurer Town shows a balance of $9,769.00 in the general fund after an expenditure of $3,200.00. The receipts for the month were as follows:

Water rates..... $ 893.77
Liquor licenses..... 250.00
Miscellaneous licenses..... 180.00
Water connections..... 25.00
Sewer connections..... 7.50
Roller hire..... 4.00
Water wages..... 6.50

Moriarty & Perkins, contractors for the new lift bridge at the foot of East Bradford street were granted a return of the certified check deposited with their bid. There will be some delay in the commencement of the work, owing to the absence in Europe of manager Hanson of the Tacoma Lumber Co., who is to furnish the lumber.

It was decided to proceed with the condemnation of the right of way for the extension of Phelps street. But two offers to sell were received and these were considered excessive.

Complaint was made by residents of Wellesley Park and Dingee Park of the annoyance caused by the discharge of firearms in these sections. Marshal Coleman was directed to enforce the law against shooting in the city limits. It was stated that the trouble was due to boys, and some of these youthful hunters may find themselves in the lockup.

City Engineer Neuman was directed to determine a permanent grade for Railroad avenue to the southern city limits. This was done to provide a basis for the improvements being made by the Southern Pacific.

A communication was presented from the United Gas & Electric Co. offering to grant the city the privilege of using their poles in extensions of the city lighting system provided they be given the privilege of using the city poles to the exclusion of competitive concerns. Chairman Merrill expressed the opinion that the city already had the right to use the light company's poles and was opposed to further concessions. A conference will be held with the lighting company officials in the hope of coming to some definite understanding.

The Telephone Company presented a protest against the granting of a license for a saloon in the room adjoining their new office. As the application for a license at this place had already been denied the communication was filed.

Attention was again called to the fact that the telephone company was violating a pledge made to the Council some time ago by its district manager in demanding a deposit of $5 before the installation of a telephone. It was decided to make a general investigation of the status of the rights of the telephone company in the city, with a view to finding some means of a general regulation of their charges.

The City Attorney was directed to prepare the initiatory steps for opening Duane street from Whipple avenue to Woodstock place and the formation of an assessment district against which to charge the cost.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

Jas. T. O'Keefe, the aspirant for the Republican Nomination for District Attorney, is seeing all the voters of the County and is making a clean fight and is not indulging in personalities. He is too far in the lead to worry about the result. He is the logical candidate by reason of his integrity, experience and his long standing in the ranks of the Republican Party. We hope there will be no mistakes on the "Dirty Politics" in this campaign. Let the voter decide for himself. MR. O'KEEFE IS IN TO WIN and his friends realize his strength and his fitness to fill the office.

The addition of $65,000 to the payroll of this city means more business for the merchants, more tenants for the property owner and employment for the young people who are growing up in our midst. We can get all these things for the small investment of $10,000. This amount should be secured within a very short time.

Every man who owns renting property in Redwood City is personally interested in the securing of the location of the shoe factory here. He can make no better investment for the benefit of his property than a contribution to the small fund needed for the securing of this enterprise.

Every merchant who hopes to increase his business should get behind the Board of Trade in the effort to secure the location of the boot and shoe factory for this city.

Don't waste your time complaining that business is dull. Get in and do something to bring increased trade. Boost for the shoe factory.

A Place of Great Responsibility.

Beyond all question the most important office to be filled at the coming county election is that of District Attorney. Not only is he the proper legal advisor of every other county official, but it is to him that the Board of Supervisors must look for counsel and direction in the transaction of the most important parts of their business. Mistakes of judgment or errors in the interpretation of the law on his part may involve the county in serious and expensive legal tangles.

Nor is even this the most important to the public of the duties and authorities entrusted to this official. Into his hands, to a large extent at least, is committed the question of the prosecution of alleged crimes against the law and public policy. Largely to his discretion is left the question as to whether or not citizens of the county who may from any motive be accused of violations of the law shall be hailed before the bar of the criminal courts. An error of judgment, or an inclination to gratify a desire for ambitious reputation on his part may be the means of bringing undesired ruin to the reputation and business standing of an innocent citizen.

For these reasons it is important that the man selected for this office should possess unusual qualifications. First of all he should be a man whose business and social standing is beyond question—whose relations with society are such as to avoid suspicion that he would temporize with vice of any character. Again, he should be a man who is not only well versed in the theory of law, but is well experienced in its practice. And in addition to this he should be a man of mature experience in the affairs of life.

For these reasons it behooves the voters of the Republican Party to exercise special care in the selection of the person to whom shall be given the nomination for this important office on their ticket at the approaching primary election. Of the men seeking the honor of the nomination, none as fully meets all of these requirements as do J. S. O'Keefe. During all of his long residence in this county he has stood before the people with clean hands and an unblemished reputation. At no time has he associated with the varieties of vice or looseness of character. That he is well versed in the theories of the law is attested by a large office practice in his profession. That he has had experience in the practice of the law is as well evidenced by his successful career before the courts of the county and state. He has passed that age of life when judgment is liable to be warped by immature ambitions, and a successful business career is ample evidence of the mature judgment of an experienced businessman. These are among the considerations which should not be overlooked by the voters.

A Duty for Every Citizen.

If the new primary law, which is now to be given its first test, is to prove of any material advantage, it is essential that every voter shall do his duty. That the law in its present form is far from perfection can not be questioned. Yet if the voters take advantage of the opportunities which it offers, much can be accomplished in the way of improving political conditions. Without the active participation of the voters, the best primary law that could be devised would offer no improvement. If the selection of the candidates and naming of the principles upon which they are to go before the people are to be left to the manipulation of the professional politician it may as well be done under the old convention method as any other.

It is important therefore that every voter of the Republican Party in this county should be prepared to accept to the fullest the duties as well as the privileges conferred upon him by the existing law. Not only should he go to the polls at the time of the election, but he should devote to the question before him sufficient consideration to enable him to cast his vote with good judgment. It is his duty to familiarize himself with the claims and qualifications of those appealing to him for his support. Should he fail to do this, he will have no right to complain of the character of the men put forward for office by his party.

Another equally important factor in the coming primary election, and one that seems to have been largely lost sight of, is the selection of the men into whose hands is to be placed the management of the affairs of the party and the conduct of its campaign before the people in the final contest. It is important that those who are to compose the central committee of the party should be men of recognized standing before the community, that the principles which they enunciate may secure the confidence of the people.

Appreciate Faithful Service.

Roy W. Cloud who aspires to succeed himself as Superintendent of Schools, will have no opposition at the primaries nor will he have any opponent at the November election. This is a marked compliment to the young man for it shows that the people are satisfied with the administration of his office and that they want no change. He has made an excellent superintendent, is popular with the teachers and the affairs of his office are in splendid condition. Anyone having business with the superintendent is treated with extreme courtesy and consideration. The trustees of the various school districts are loud in their praises of him. Mr. Cloud is a product of the county being a graduate of the local grammar school, the high school and Stanford University and has had some experience in teaching, having taught in the Redwood City grammar school and was for a term principal of the Bodie school. He is thoroughly qualified for the position and has marked ability.

South Has Strong Candidate.

The Republicans of Southern California are to be congratulated upon their selection of Frank H. Mouser as their candidate for Secretary of State. A man of striking personality and strong personal magnetism, he carries enthusiasm with him wherever he may go. Added to this he is easily approachable, an important quality in a public official. In his campaign he presents three strong arguments why he should be given the nomination. First, that he is a good Republican, second, that he is well qualified for the office; and third, that as the north has three candidates for Governor the south is properly entitled to the nominee for the next important office. The candidacy of Mr. Mouser is being received with much favor in the northern sections of the state as well as in the southland.

There will be union services in the Congregational church next Sunday morning, and in the evening in the Methodist church, when the theme will be "The Gospel in Song." Oldtime hymns will be sung—Rev. Thomas Leak, pastor.

SUPERVISOR BOARD IN REGULAR SESSION

Courthouse, Telephone Troubles Continue Source of Worry to County Guardians.

The board of Supervisors met last Monday. All members were present except Coleman.

A communication was read from Glenn Allen, the architect denying that he had offered to bribe John O'Farrell to withdraw his plans for the courthouse grounds in order that his might be accepted. The communication was read and ordered filed.

Chairman McEvoy stated that on account of the death of Tax Collector McCracken, a number of applications for liquor licenses that should have been taken up July 1st had not been taken up. There being no objections the applications were given a first reading.

Albert Mansfield presented the tally list and other documents in connection with the bond election held at Halfmoon Bay on June 28th at which 173 votes were cast in favor and 25 against a bond issue of $25,000 for building a high school. A resolution was adopted declaring the election to be held according to law.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for installing a lighting system at San Bruno and Colma. The salary of the Health Officer was raised from $50 to $75 per month.

E. I. Woodman, editor of the South San Francisco Enterprise, called the Board's attention to the illegal printing of legal notices in papers published at Colma and San Bruno. The matter was referred to the district attorney who reported that affidavit of the publishers would be the best evidence.

J. L. Brown of the Colma Record claims his paper was a legal publication and was accepted as such by the Postoffice Department. In order to obviate possible trouble in calling for bids for installing the street-lighting plants at Colma and San Bruno it was decided to publish each notice in two north-end papers, a motion to that effect being made by Casey and seconded by Blackburn.

A communication was received from Henry T. Scott, complimenting Supervisor Casey of the First District on the excellent condition of Henry Ward Brown, representing the City of South San Francisco, presented a petition, signed by a number of business men and citizens of that city asking that the South San Francisco fire district be dissolved and discontinued, as the territory of the present municipal corporation.

Assessor Hayward was called and testified that the signers to the petition represented more than half the assessed valuation of the fire district, and that the boundaries of the district were the same as the city.

A resolution presented by Mr. Brown was adopted on motion of Casey, seconded by Blackburn, ordering the discontinuance of the fire district and directing that all of its apparatus be turned over to the City of South San Francisco and that any debts that may be outstanding against said district be assumed by the municipal corporation.

District Attorney Bullock reported in the matter of the telephone contract referred to him at the last meeting. He explained that the Company would not be obliged to maintain a central station, although if the Company's representative made a verbal agreement to install an intercommunicating system and failed to do so it violated its contract.

H. P. Brownlee of San Jose, a representative of the telephone company, stated that the agreement was to serve the courthouse by three trunk lines and install twenty-one phones which would be operated by a central office in the building to be maintained by the county. The central station could be dispensed with by having twenty-one main lines controlled from the company's station.

The matter was referred to a committee consisting of Chairman McEvoy and Francis who will confer with the telephone company.

Donald MacKenzie, the courthouse superintendent, stated that the officers were in need of lights and the company to which the contract had been awarded to install the fixtures had not yet begun its work. He had an estimate of $345 for supplying the necessary cable for the current. The matter was referred to the Building committee.

The claim of the W. E. Howe-Kimerson Co. for $75 for decorating the courthouse on July 4th was referred to the Fourth of July committee.

The Redwood City band was granted permission to use the courthouse grounds for a portable band stand on Saturday evenings.

Superintendent MacKenzie was authorized to purchase extra keys, doorlocks, locks, cuspidors and other needed furnishings for the different offices and to have a private office built for the county clerk.

Superintendent Ford presented plans and specifications for improvements and changes in the buildings at the county farm which were accepted motion of Blackburn, seconded by Francis, and the clerk directed to issue a call for bids for doing the work.

On motion of Casey, seconded by Francis, the polling places and primary election officers selected by the several members was accepted and declared to be the official appointees of the board.

The Board after adjournment met as a board of equalization. There was one application for reduction of assessment. It was that of Geo. H. Irving who asked that the assessment of the Coleman tract at Menlo Park be reduced from $67,250 to $62,000. Mr. Irving, who was present, explained that 21 lots in the tract had been sold for $3250 and he thought that sum should be deducted from the assessment as the respective owners were assessed with that amount. The assessor said that the sale of the lots had enhanced the property and he thought the assessment should remain as it was. He further declared that the Coleman mansion was only assessed for $15,000 when it was worth a great deal more. The board after considerable discussion granted the request and made the reduction. There being no further business the board adjourned sine die.

BELMONT CITIZEN DEAD

P. A. Russell Answers Unexpected Summons of Grim Destroyer.

P. A. Russell, the well known contractor and politician of Belmont, passed away in a San Francisco hospital early yesterday morning following an operation that had been performed on him the day before. It was at first thought he was suffering from appendicitis but later it was learned that he was afflicted with ptomaine poisoning brought on by the use of canned goods. The body was brought to his home in Belmont yesterday afternoon. Mr. Russell was well known throughout the county having constructed buildings in all parts of the county. He was superintendent of construction of the new courthouse that was destroyed by the earthquake of 1906. He built the large grammar school at Halfmoon Bay and erected other prominent structures. In various parts of the county and was at present engaged in building the James Neuman residence in Wellesley Park. Mr. Russell was about fifty years old and had resided at Belmont for the past twenty years. He was a candidate for the office of auditor on the Republican ticket and had only concluded to go into the contest a few days ago when he filed his petition. He was to have made a whirlwind campaign. Mr. Russell was a genial man, easy to approach and had a winning way about him that made him many friends. INVESTIGATE SHOE FACTORY
Committee of Board of Trade Makes Inspection of Business.

Editor Times-Gazette: A committee from the Board of Trade of this city visited San Francisco on Thursday for the purpose of interviewing the proprietors of the shoe factory which they are trying to have located its business in this town. The committee met with a very favorable reception, made a close inspection of the present works and found the same over-crowded both with machinery and help, with a scale of wages running from $6 to $36 per week, the average seeming to be about $15 to $18.

The matter of raising the necessary funds to procure the land and buildings required will come up before the next meeting of the Board of Trade which is to be held next Tuesday evening, and which we trust will be attended by every member of said Board as this is a matter of vital importance to the business men and property owners of the town.

Yours truly,
GEO. W. LOVIE.

CURRY MAKING GAINS
Politicians Predict Anderson Will Be Third Man in Primary Race.

If at any time during the last two months there has been a genuine doubt about the republican gubernatorial contest being a two man affair between Curry and Johnson, that doubt has been completely removed by the admission of the machine men and the Johnson campaign.

Nine out of every ten students of applied politics will admit privately or affirm publicly that the republican race is between Curry and Johnson. Those willing to make such private admission have been recruited within the last two weeks by some of the men most intimately acquainted with or interested in the machine campaign for Anderson. One of the biggest and brightest men in the Herby machine forces emphatically declared last week that Anderson was not even a forlorn hope and that the best that could be expected from him or for him was the possibility that in the last month of the campaign he could cut deep enough into the Curry vote to bring Johnson home a winner of the nomination.

The Johnson leaders are proceeding upon the same theory. I do not mean to say that there is an understanding between the Johnson and Anderson leaders. I do mean to say that the machine men behind Anderson, recognizing their defeat, show a willing or unwilling preference for Johnson. Machine candidates for the legislature in San Francisco have been told by the machine leaders, whom they recognize as their political masters, that in the event that Anderson could not win they were to switch to Johnson. It is not to be understood that the Johnson managers have said anything about switching to Anderson in the event that it becomes apparent that Johnson could not win.

They have contended from the first that the fight was between their man and Curry. That is still their contention, but in the last two weeks they have become alarmed over the unexpected weakness of Anderson. They bewail the apparent slim proportions of the machine candidate's probable vote and are frankly anxious to build it up, on the theory that every vote Anderson gains is a loss to Curry and that if Anderson can not be made stronger Curry will nose Johnson out at the finish. With the primary election only four weeks away the situation has resolved itself down to the fight against Curry.

A prominent distiller of Covington, Kentucky, was here Sunday. He bears a strong resemblance to A'den Anderson, one of the Republican aspirants for governor, and at once impersonated that gentleman, telling those he met that he was Anderson. He was lavish in the expenditure of his money in the saloons and his appearance in town caused a furor among the politicians. Gathering a large crowd around him in a prominent saloon he delivered a speech declaring that he was not Anderson and in strong language advised his hearers to vote and work for the election of Charles F. Curry for Governor saying that he was the most independent man of all the aspirants for the position, that Anderson was owned by the Southern Pacific and that Johnson was running in the interest of the Western Pacific Company and that Curry was the people's choice and would be the next chief executive of California.

W., and under those auspices he was buried Thursday. The remains were cremated in Odd Fellows cemetery. Notre Dame Academy of this city which was closed since the disaster of 1906, will reopen on the 10th of August. The original building has been practically rebuilt and a large addition has been made for the accommodation of boarding pupils. The sisters of Notre Dame from San Jose will take charge and conduct a select day and boarding school. These sisters came to Redwood City some twenty-five years ago and if the community can boast of its high moral standing in little credit is due to the influence which they exerted upon their pupils during all those years. They worked in a quiet unobtrusive manner, but reaped a harvest the fruits of their labor are evident. No doubt this community will welcome their return and show their appreciation of such a source of good in its midst. The sisters will teach the ordinary elements and grammar grades and will also give a special course in bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting for those girls who have completed the grammar school and do not intend to enter high school. A limited number of boarders will be provided for and this is in saving and domestic economy will be organized. Music and painting will form special courses. Parents who wish to place their children in the academy should apply about the 1st of August.
